WHAT'S IN A NAME

Bela-Bela means "the pot that boils" in Tswana. It is a small town in Limpopo, a province in South Africa, known until 2002 as "Warmbaths" in English and "Warmbad" in Afrikaans, thanks to the geothermic hot springs.

The World of Wine team loved the ring of it, as internationally "bella" is connected to beauty. As we honour the beauty of the South African wines by savouring it, all our memories created while drinking it go back to the good things in life. Who does not enjoy a glass of good wine in a hot tub for example, if you are not pairing it with the above suggestions from our winemaker, that is ?

ORIGIN

This wine was especially handcrafted upon request of World of Wine Belgium, in the Nuy Valley, at the foothills of the Langeberg Mountains, Worcester area of the Western Cape, SA.
